MANILA, Oct. 7 (AP) — Legal experts told the Senate today that the proposed Jpepa (Joint Peace and Reconciliation Act) is unconstitutional, and that the draft Rapps (Reconciliation and Amnesties Act) is unconstitutional.

The Senate is currently debating the Jpepa, which would grant amnesty to rebels and allow them to return to the Philippines. The draft Rapps would grant amnesty to rebels and allow them to return to the Philippines.

At a public hearing yesterday, the Senate Committee on Constitutional Amendments and Reforms heard testimony from legal experts. The experts testified that the Jpepa is unconstitutional because it grants amnesty to rebels without a trial.

The draft Rapps is also unconstitutional because it grants amnesty to rebels without a trial. The experts testified that the Jpepa is unconstitutional because it grants amnesty to rebels without a trial.

Sen. Raul Sison, who chairs the committee, said he is disappointed that the experts found the Jpepa unconstitutional. He said he will continue to work on the bill.

UN: Drive vs poverty in Asia on

THE UNITED NATIONS has a new way of looking at poverty, and it's not just about how much money you have. It's about how much you have to live on.

The report, released last week, says that the world's poorest people are not just poor, they are poor in a way that is different from the rest of the world.

But what's different about it? It's not just about how much money you have. It's about how much you have to live on. The report says that the world's poorest people are not just poor, they are poor in a way that is different from the rest of the world.

Philippine Airlines
Clearly No. 1.

[illegible]This image shows a single page of a musical score manuscript. It consists of ten horizontal staves, each with five lines. The staves are arranged vertically and are currently blank, with no notes or other markings written on them. The paper has a slightly aged appearance with some minor discoloration and faint smudges. There are some very light, illegible marks at the top left corner, possibly from a previous page or binding.
